Fund Commentary

The Waypoint All Weather Alternative Fund was +4.09% for the month (-6.02% YTD) vs. +3.91% (+11.75% YTD) for the S&P TSX Total Return Index.

Year-end markets were buoyed by optimism that the federal reserve in the U.S. will once again pivot. The portfolio was positively impacted by strength in two of its larger positions (Evertz +15% and AirBoss of America +25%). This was slightly offset by a further mark-to-market decline in the fund's options positions.

Market participants are convinced that a soft landing is achievable so long as the Federal Reserve pivots from its current interest rate policy. However, history would suggest that a recession is unavoidable, and a rate cut into a recession is negative for equity markets.

We thank you for your on-going support.
